Teams to look out for:

Most of these teams have accumulated much Tyrant Tournament experience, meaning they know what to expect when the whistle blows. They know the effort, determination, and team support they will need to accomplish their goals of the weekend.

In the MS division, PA Alliance, Junior Terps, Full Circle, Mat Warriors all have performed well at past Tyrant Events. The VA Patriots continue to seek out these challenges and not shy away from adversity. They make strides everytime we see them. But our eyes are on two new teams in the mix this year: Red Devil WC and SC Prep.

Red Devil WC has some scrappy PA wrestlers on their squad. Several PA state qualifiers and will be led by PA State Champion Walker Martin and PA State placer Rocco Fabri.

SC Prep from MD is loaded with studs out of MD as well as a few wrestlers from NJ. This lineup includes several MD State placers & champs. A few of them include:

- Dylan Verceles: MD State Champ
- Juju McCrimmon: MD State Champ

- Ed Encarnacion: 3x MD State Champ, 2024 Powerade Champ
- Charles Cooper: 5x MD State Champ
- Chris Wolf: NJ Freestyle State Champ, NHSCA All-American
- Anthony Riotto: 2024 NJ State Champ
- Matthew Marenco: 5x defending MD State Champ, 4th Powerade
- Jacob Endzel: 7x defending MD State Champ.

In the ES6 division, Buxton is the top team to watch out for. They are always dangerous. Diamond Fish is another whose lineups are always tough. A matchup between them and Buxton is very intriguing and should be a good showdown. As mentioned, all these teams on any given weekend can give you a battle so we expect the ES6 division to be chaotic all day. Depends on who wants it the most!

Brawler Elite has two teams competing (ES4 & ES6)

Diamond Fish has two teams competing (ES4 & ES6)

Full Circle: 3 teams, one in each division (ES4, ES6, MS)

Mat Warriors: 3 teams (2 ES6, 1 MS)

PA Alliance: 2 teams (ES6 & MS)

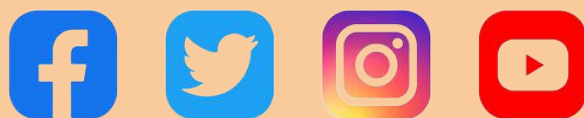

These should be great duals between all these squads.

We can't wait to see it all go down!
